Spring: Planning for your best summer!

The Pacific Northwest shines during this time of the year: clear skies and bright sunny days beckon us to get outside. Yet most of us continue to act like grown-ups, showing up for work and staying focused on doing our best. I definitely find myself puttering outside until dark (or later) and just plain avoiding being in my house once I'm home from work. Summer days beckon us to relax and experience the outdoors – which often starts us dreaming of retirement. As you dream, reach out so we can continue our work to make those dreams a reality. Dreams start with vision, and become true by being disciplined.

Don't Wait to Ask Aging Parents These Important Questions

If you're the adult child of aging parents, it's important to open up a conversation about their future needs and wishes. The best time to start is when your parents are relatively healthy. Otherwise, you may find yourself making critical decisions on their behalf in the midst of a crisis without a roadmap.
